

AASD Award 2017 - Open for Nomination

Dear AASD Members,

Thank you very much for your continuous support to the development of AASD.
We are pleased to announce that the AASD Award 2017 is now open for nomination.

About AASD Awards

Asian Association for the Study of Diabetes (AASD) Awards are made to honor substantial contributions to the mission of AASD: Promoting Research for Better Diabetes Care in Asia. Recipients are individuals who by their outstanding leadership and career achievements in diabetes research, clinical care and education have enriched diabetes care in our region and worldwide.

The Three AASD Named Awards

1. The Yutaka Seino Distinguished Leadership Award
2. The Masato Kasuga Award for Outstanding Scientific Achievement
3. The Xiaoren Pan Distinguished Research Award for Epidemiology of Diabetes in Asia

Nomination/Submission Process: Deadline Oct. 31st, 2016

AASD Awards 2017 is Open for Nominations

- Nominations must be submitted using the AASD Award Nomination Form (download from website)
- Nominations are accepted only from AASD members including AASD executive board members.
- Letters of nomination of less than 400 words and signed by three persons at most will be accepted.
- CV with nominees' career and publication highlights (The number of publication required is 10 for The Yutaka Seino Distinguished Leadership Award, and 5 for the other two awards)
- Completed applications and supporting documents are submitted via e-mail before the designated date to AASD office: office@aa-sd.org
- Each person can recommend only one candidate for each award.

Questions

For detailed information about each award and download the forms, please go to AASD Website.
<http://www.aa-sd.org/awards/index.html>

AASD office will not answer any questions regarding the selection process and result.